EXPLORING THE FRONTIERS OF FICTION: HUMOUR, MODERNISM AND NARRATIVE FORM IN VIRGINIA WOOLF'S "JACOB'S ROOM" (1922)

diplom.de Inhaltsangabe: Introduction: Virginia Woolf is not a popular writer. Despite a fierce pride in her work it was never her ambition to be one. Most people have heard of her work, vaguely associating it with the second wave of the women's liberation movement in the 1970s and the type of fiction that is commonly called difficult, and few people unfamiliar with her work would associate her reputation with humour. These are some of the first impressions of a writer who is now hailed by scholars of English literature as one of the icons of modernism. To speak of first impressions of Virginia Woolf's work is not as fatuous as it may seem. After all Woolf's fiction was initially founded on impressions, and I hope to show that one of the distinctive characteristics of her oeuvre compared to other modernists like T.S. Eliot, W.B. Yeats or James Joyce, is the intensely visual nature of her art. Furthermore, she is often associated with a movement of modern painting in the early twentieth century known as Post-Impressionism, including painters like Cézanne, Picasso and Georges Braque. Finally, laughter in all its registers - whether merry, cruel or parodic - runs like a golden thread throughout the texture of her essays, short stories and novels; as satire does more generally throughout modernism. I have chosen Virginia Woolf's third novel, Jacob's Room (1922), as the focus of my study of Woolf's modernism. It is not her best known novel, as most critical acclaim is reserved for Mrs. Dalloway (1925) or To the Lighthouse (1927). She started writing fiction in 1915 just as the First World War started and, for four reasons, I believe that Jacob's Room is the perfect starting point from which to survey Woolf's particular contribution to the Modernist Movement. Firstly, the social catastrophe associated with the First World War is widely considered to be the decisive historic event in the collective consciousness of early twentieth century Europe, its effects reverberating throughout the literary- and visual arts in the 1920s. Secondly, Jacob's Room was published in a year which falls nicely within the boundaries of the period of High Modernism, which culminated in the decades between 1910 and 1930. Indeed the year of 1922 marks the publication of two other seminal modernist works, T.S. Eliot's Waste Land and James Joyce's Ulysses. Thirdly, Jacob's Room is commonly regarded as Virginia Woolf's first experimental novel in which she, in her own phrase, [...]

MAPPING THE MODERN MIND: VIRGINIA WOOLF'S PARODIC APPROACH TO THE ART OF FICTION IN "JACOB'S ROOM"

Diplomica Verlag In this study the author conducts a close reading of Virginia Woolf's first 'experimental' novel, Jacob's Room (1922). Her reading is based on the fundamental premise that the novel is an exploration of fictional form, rather than an exposition of any preconceived idea. Jacob's Room is an essentially modernist text, and is characterised by extensive genre-mixing typical of the art of fiction in the early 20th century. Throughout her study the author analyses the extent to which the novel transgresses the 'boundaries' of the novelistic genre. She explores the generic interface between the novel and those genres which are deemed to be innate to Virginia Woolf's sensibility, i.e. the journalistic essay, biography and impressionist painting. The premise of this study leads the author to read the novel on two levels of significance: On the narrative, 'surface' level of the novel, Woolf constructs the tragic life of a promising young Englishman, Jacob Flanders, who dies in the First World War. Simultaneously, on the metafictional level of significance, Woolf, through her garrulous narrator, mocks and evaluates the actions of her characters, experimenting with various points of view in an attempt to define the character of her protagonist. Jacob's 'room' is thus conceived as a 'mental space' in which a modern writer's mind is 'mapped'. The central aesthetic question which is debated in this room or forum relates to the essential art of modern fiction in general and the efficiency of characterisation in fiction in particular. It is argued that Virginia Woolf probes into the epistemic question of the essence of modern man and, in an attempt to capture the essence of her protagonist, speculates on the corresponding literary question how, and to what extent, the 'soul' of man can be represented in fiction. The author uses this generic approach to the novel as a broad structuring principle for her study of Jacob's Room. After discussing the socio-political context of modernism in the early 20th century, including the impact of the First World War on modernist writing, she focuses her study on those aspects of Woolf's fiction which are deemed fundamental to the narrative strategy in Jacob's Room, i.e. the role and nature of Woolf's humour within the context of modernism; the 'nodes' or clusters of metaphors and symbols recurring in the text; the role of the narrator as 'toastmaster' of the debate on character and fiction in Jacob's Room; the extent to which the novel parodies the 'new biography' of the early twentieth century; and the extent to which Woolf transvaluates the tools of impressionist painting into modernist fiction.

LA RIVISTA DI ENGRAMMA 191, APRILE-MAGGIO 2022

Edizioni Engramma In this issue of Engramma: Giulia Zanon's Zooming Mnemosyne deals with the use of details in Warburg's Bilderatlas, Monica Centanni's Collateral effects of the "visibile parlare" (Dante, Pg. X, v. 95) reconstructs the hypothesis of a visual model for the legend of Trajan's Justice, according to Warburg intuition about it; this contribution is connected of the paper by Filippo Perfetti's Dante, Botticelli, and Trajan. An Open Note where the author investigates how Botticelli could have come to know that the bas-relief of the Arch of Constantine liberatoris urbis was related to an episode in Trajan's life". The focus of this issue is then extended to Warburg's cultural environment. Matilde Sergio's Aby Warburg, Walter Benjaming, and the Memory of Images investigates the influence of Warburg's essay about Luther, on Benjamin's thought, while Dorothee Gelhard's Gertrud Bing's Scientific Beginnings reconstructs the intellectual history of Bing's doctoral thesis and its influences on Warburgian work. The theme of Warburg's Denkraum is the focal point of Salvatore Settis' Anselm Kiefer's Logic of Inversion: a fundamental overview of Kiefer's Questi scritti, quando verranno bruciati, daranno finalmente un po' di luce (Andrea Emo) on display at Sala dello Scrutinio in Palazzo Ducale, Venezia from March to October 2022. The third section of the issue is dedicated to new publications and exhibitions. Echoing Settis' reflection on Denkraum, we present Clio Nicastro's La Dialettica del Denkraum in Aby Warburg, published this year for Palermo University Press; an introduction to Cultural Memories: a series published by Peter Lang and edited by Katia Pizzi. LAW, LIBERTY, AND THE COMPETITIVE MARKET Transaction Publishers Law, Liberty, and the Competitive Market brings the clash between law and legislation to the attention of economists and political scientists. It fills a void and offers a series of texts that have not previously been translated into English. This anthology connects various articles by Leoni on economics and law with the objective of emphasizing how much Leoni's own theory in the juridical environment was influenced by reflection on authors of the Austrian school--from Carl Menger to Ludwig von Mises, from Friedrich von Hayek to Murray N. Rothbard. The essays dealing with economics help us understand how many of Leoni's positions were libertarian. A careful reader of Mises, Leoni often ends up by assuming positions that are even more anti-state than those of the Austrian economist (concerning monopolies, for example). It is significant that in the 1960s his thought was influenced by Rothbard. The very critiques that he addresses to normativism and to analytical philosophy contain strong ideological elements, as they move from the awareness that legal positivism leads to statism and philosophical relativism to acquiescence in the face of power. Studying the market economy, Leoni perceives opposition between spontaneous order and planning. In this way, he understands how such a contrast is significant for the origins of norms. Leoni's idea of a law able to protect individual liberty has its roots in the market. Thus, the market is at the same time the model he uses to conceive the legal order and an institution fundamental for the service of civilization, which the law is called to protect. This is an important work by a figure only now being recognized as a pioneer in the field of economics and an innovator in political theory.

READING THE CHUANG-TZU IN THE T'ANG DYNASTY

THE COMMENTARY OF CH'ENG HSÜAN-YING (FL. 631-652)

Peter Lang Pub Incorporated The first comprehensive study of commentaries to the Chuang-tzu in the T'ang dynasty, this book explores the fascinating interaction between Taoism and Buddhism through a reading of the Chuang-tzu. Focusing on the commentary by the Taoist master Ch'eng Hsüan-ying (fl. 631-652), Shiyi Yu argues that, in competition with Buddhism, traditional Chinese thinking took a sharp turn in the early T'ang away from the influence of Taoist-minded philosophers in the Wei-Chin period. Characterized by being concrete and unambiguous in approaching the issue of transcendence, Ch'eng Hsüan-ying's innovative reading of the Chuang-tzu led to a new emphasis on experience and knowledge. In both these respects, his reading has not only transformed the Chuang-tzu as constructed by previous readers, but also convincingly defended medieval Taoism as a set of practical beliefs that also were grounded in the metaphysics of the time.
