Paradigm Found Leading and Managing for Positive Change New World Library *A Practical Framework for Positive Social Change In 1987, Anne Firth Murray had the idea that funding should go to grassroots women's organizations around the globe and that the recipients themselves should decide how to use that money. From that idea, The Global Fund for Women was born. The organization became a major force for good in the world, embodying a new paradigm of philanthropy. In these pages, Murray shares her wisdom, offering guidelines that demonstrate how anyone can turn a clear vision of a better world into reality. From Outrage to Courage Women Taking Action for Health and Justice Women in poorer countries face daunting health injustices--and they are fighting back. From Outrage to Courage The Unjust and Unhealthy Situation of Women in Poorer Countries and what They are Doing about it Common Courage Press *From half a million women who die in pregnancy and childbirth to one out of three women suffering domestic violence worldwide, from 90 million girls who do not go to school to HIV/AIDS spreading fastest among adolescent girls, women around the world face unique health challenges. The brothers Matthew and George Culley were successfully improving farmers in north Northumberland. They were instrumental in introducing into northern England the methods and the new Leicester sheep of Robert Bakewell, the pioneer livestock breeder. They themselves developed the Border Leicester, which became a basis for sheep flocks especially in northern England and southern Scotland. They promoted an efficient type of mixed arable and livestock husbandry suited to their area. Both brothers travelled extensively in England and Scotland, observing farming methods and expanding trade, and keeping journals of their travels. These journals and letters, never published before, provide a detailed picture of English and Scottish agriculture in a significant period of change. The Culleys, from a middling social class, were forward-looking men of wide interests. Their down-to-earth journals are worthy to stand alongside such famous contemporary works as Arthur Young's Tours and John Byng's Diaries. Index-catalogue of Medical and Veterinary Zoology. The Moray Way Companion A Comprehensive Guide to The Dava Way, The Moray Coast Trail and the Speyside Way Birlinn Ltd The Moray Way consists of all or part of three previously existing routes: the Moray Coast Trail, the Speyside Way and the Dava Way. Together they cover a huge and varied range of landscapes. This book is the ideal guide to much of what this beautiful and richly historical part of Scotland has to offer. The largest town, Forres, is an ancient royal burgh. Between it and the next biggest town of Lossiemouth lie the coastal villages of Findhorn, Burghead and Hopeman, connected by some of Scotland's finest coastal scenery and beaches. Eastwards, beyond intact remains of second world war defences, lie Garmouth and Fochabers, the former, many centuries ago, the main port of Moray Here the Moray Way turns south, following a course through the fertile Spey valley. Its many distilleries are part of the considerable variety of interest as the route continues to the resort town of Grantown. A final stage northward crosses the wild openness of Dava Moor, reaching eventually the spectacular Divie viaduct where there is a dramatic change to gentler woodlands and pastoral landscapes as the trail leads back to Forres.
